

MARIJUANA and our pets

All marijuana products—plant material, oils, resin, gummies, cbd, etc.—can be toxic to your pet. Signs can range from mild to severe and include things like vomiting, sedation, changes to the cardiovascular system, neurological issues, and urinary incontinence.

Some products may also contain other concerning ingredients, such as xylitol and chocolate, and ingesting wrappers or packaging material can lead to an obstruction.

If your pet has ingested any marijuana product, you should call your local veterinarian or the APCC for next steps.

ASPCA | (888) 426-4435
Animal Poison Control Center

For more information, visit aspc.org/apcc