Please select the definition that best describes your dog in the following circumstances.

Very Excited - your dog will bark, whine and jump up on people and objects. Your dog seeks out activity and will chase people or things. Your dog has a hard time calming down and usually has to be removed from whatever is causing the excitement.

Excited - your dog will bark and whine and may jump up on people or objects, but calms within a short time.

Happy - your dog is interested, but very polite. Your dog does not jump up, but will wag his or her tail and approach.

Indifferent - your dog is not interested and does not break away from whatever he or she may be doing.

Anxious - your dog appears to be excited and will approach. Ears are down and its tail will be tucked but wagging. Your dog has a very guilty look. Your dog gets so excited or anxious it pees.

Scared - your dog runs away from the situation and attempts to hide under or behind a table or other object. Your dog may eventually approach depending on the circumstances.

Growls - your dog growls in a low tone and may assume a stiff body posture.

Shows Teeth - the lips curl back so that the front teeth can be seen.

Snaps - your dog attempts to bite, but does not bite hard or break the skin.

Nips - your dog bites but does not bite hard enough to break the skin.

Bites - your dog bites, breaks the skin or tears clothing.
